

Visual Schedule Ideas Using Pictures & Words (photographs)

Some kids relate better to photographs than to cartoons or objects. Schedules can always be split up between general times of day or done for entire days. Photos can be taken of your own child and in your own settings or premade photos can be downloaded or purchased or made collage style from magazine images.

Celebrate Effort

Communicate and celebrate with your students in the most effective way by immediately reinforcing a child's positive behavior and encouraging them to repeat it. It is a critical component for adults to remember when giving a child feedback. Praise is key and everyone needs good!
