

PARTICIPATE IN AN AUTISM STUDY

FREE FAMILY BASED THERAPY

What is this study about?

Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) impacts not only the individual who is diagnosed but the entire family. This study will investigate treating ASD as a family supporting the children and parents together. Families will receive intensive family therapy sessions twice per week for a total of 8-10 sessions. These sessions are FREE of charge.

Who can participate?

Any family who:

- Has a child with a confirmed diagnosis of ASD between the ages of 10 - 15 years old
- Is able to attend bi-weekly family therapy sessions via telehealth technology ((2) 90 minute sessions)
